

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTION

This chapter organizes the conclusion and suggestion related with the discussion before. It determines the finding that are discussed in the chapter four and provides some suggestions toward the next researcher.

5.1 Conclusion

After analysing types of illocutionary act found in political speech conducted by Donald Trump, it is found five types of illocutionary act, namely representatives of illocutionary acts, (28.23%), illocutionary act of commissive (26.47%), illocutionary act of expressive (19.41%), and illocutionary act directives (14.70%), and illocutionary act of declaration (11.18%). Representatives has the highest percentage 28.23%. It means that speaker produces speech tends to make statement. He gave information and try to persuade people or audience by his statement. The second highest percentage is commissive (26.47%.) It means speaker in his speech tried to make promise to audience to make vaccine as soon as possible with manufacturer of ventilators. The rest are expressives (19.41%), directives (14.70%), and declarations (11.18%).

The functions of illocutionary speech acts performed by Donald Trump in Political Speech presented using arguments, opinions, and standpoints in order to influence and convince potential voters. He tried to look positive and sound persuasive in front of their audience. Donald is Politician who conduct political speech in front of people with his particular purposes such as in his speech “Operation Warp Speed.”

5.2 Suggestion

Within this research, the writer revealed three statements of the illocutionary acts, which are the types, dominant, and function of illocutionary acts. For the next researcher that intends to conduct a research on illocutionary act from several things that the researcher would like to advice such :

1. For the other researchers who are interested in discourse analysis of the linguistic study, not only speech but also the other media as an object such as movie, conversations, a newspaper can also be the object of the other discourse analysis of the linguistic study.
2. There are many other speech delivered by Donald Trump that may become the object of a research with different themes and problems.

From this research, the writer hopes that this research will provide benefits for the next writer be useful for the readers.

