

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTION

5.1. Conclusion

Based on the result of the data analysis, research findings, and discussion in the previous chapter, the researcher concluded that the use of Round Robin Technique through Realia was effective in teaching writing of Descriptive text at the Tenth grade of SMA N 1 KEMBANG. The students' writing skill was still low before applying Round Robin Technique through Realia. It was different from the students' writing skills after applying Round Robin Technique through Realia. It could be seen that students' post-test was higher than the pre-test, which proved that applying Round Robin Technique through Realia in learning English gave contribution to the students' improvement in studying writing skills especially in Descriptive text. From the computation of Independent sample t-test, It was known from the mean score both of the class, the experimental class was higher than the control class. In this calculation of post-test score in the experimental class and control class, the Sig. (2-tailed) was 0,000 was lower than the level of significance 0,05 ( $0,000 < 0,05$ ). It was indicated that there was a significant difference between students' score posttest in experimental class which taught using Round Robin Technique through Realia and without using Round Robin Technique through Realia in control class. It can be concluded that the  $H_0$  was rejected and  $H_a$  was accepted. It meant that there was significant difference on the students writing skills in Descriptive Text that tuse of Round Robin Technique through Realia was effective at the Tenth grade of SMA N 1 KEMBANG in the Academic Year of 2020/2021.
