

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTION

5.1. CONCLUSION

According to the finding on the previous chapter by analyzing the data based on Levinson's theory, the researcher concluded that there are four majors deixis identified in the Lýdia Machovás videos entitled "The secrets of Learning a New Language" on TED. The deixis identified are person deixis, time deixis, place deixis, and discourse deixis. The most dominant deixis used is person deixis "I", because in the videos shows that the communication dominate by the speaker. The speaker told her experience when learning foreign languages, while the audience just respons it by laughing.

In this reasearch the researcher didn't find any social deixis. It is because in the videos dind't show any conversation that identified social relationship between speaker and audience. In another word, it is a kind of monologue.

5.2 SUGGESTION

The study of deixis in the Lýdia Machovás videos entitled "The secrets of Learning a New Language" on TED hopefully be useful for students who would like to get deep understanding about the deixis analysis.

For other researcher , they can do the research of deixis with different objects as like speech, novel, or film, so that this research can be the guidance of their research.
